Avans University of Applied Sciences is a renowned university in the Netherlands. With its 24,000 students it is one of the largest universities of the country at the sea. Avans has three campuses in three major cities of the South: Breda, Tilburg and 's-Hertogenbosch. Avans School of International Studies is located in Breda. In the Netherlands known as the "Pearl of the South".

Breda is in the centre of the important economic triangle, formed by Rotterdam, Antwerp and Eindhoven. It is the home of a growing number of international companies like Philips, Perfetti van Melle and Ericsson. From Breda you can travel to all major European cities within a couple of hours. Moreover, Breda is a safe environment where you can combine your study efforts with activities to unbend your mind again. Breda is the home of many festivals that often transform the centre of town in the place to be.

The Higher Education Options Guide 2011, has proclaimed Avans University the best multidisciplinary university of applied sciences in the Netherlands. Which indicates that, the Dutch system of higher education already ranking among the best in the world, students studying at Avans get "the top of the bill".

The different study programmes are being evaluated as well. Surveys among experts, the professional field, students and alumni have shown that the International Business and Management Studies programme (IBMS) of Avans School of International Studies is by far the best programme of IBMS in the Netherlands. So Avans students in the IBMS programme study the best possible programme at the best Dutch university of applied sciences.

We offer you the possibility to be part of this student population.

When studying in the Avans IBMS programme you are part of an international society. Both students and professors come from all over the world. Moreover you can benefit from the combined competencies of the Dutch professors. Most of them have a proven record in university combined with a sound experience in the international business environment.

Students that obtain the required credits are rewarded with the Bachelor of Business Administration degree (BBA). An important entrance ticket for a flourishing career in international business: a survey among our alumni has shown that almost all of them found a job in this field after just three month after graduation. In addition, this survey has shown that by far the majority of our alumni work in larger international companies in the fields of marketing, sales, finance and logistics.

Dear students,

We are glad that we can offer you the opportunity to study for a year at our University of Applied Sciences. It is a marvellous opportunity because it enables you to get a BBA degree from the number one International Business and Management Studies programme in the Netherlands.
